

Wake up! News

Volume 7, Issue 2
August, 2016

Presenting themes

Every term we decide on a number of themes to present to the children, to build on their general knowledge and vocabulary and arouse their curiosity about the world around them. Some themes come back every year and are close to home such as talking about your body and senses and Namibia. Other themes take our learners a bit further. Last term we talked about fish, health workers, land & water and the solar system.

A clinic in the classroom

Brushing teeth

Talking about Land & Water

Toddlers busy colouring

Looking at fish & Making fish

From the Editor

Last week was the last of the winter-term. We will be back for the last term of the year on August 31st.

There is lots on our agenda. There will be a Fun Day in September, organised by our Parent Committee. The vegetable garden needs to be revived in a water-saving way. We hope for early rains, as Windhoek is running dry. There will be changes of staff and a new volunteer and we are busy taking in applications for 2017. It will be December before we know!

Snack policy

This year we decided to provide all snacks and lunch, as such promoting healthy eating at school and avoiding disparity, letting all children enjoy the same food. Some mothers are taking turns to help with the preparation and dishing out.

New equipment

Thanks to our regular donors we have been able to buy new gym equipment from South Africa, very much enjoyed by the children, as we need to educate body and mind. Now the children have the opportunity to do somersaults and work on their balance and jumps.

Furthermore we have received a first consignment of learning materials from Walvisbay where a Montessori supplier has opened shop. This is how we are building up our school!

Watch us
Work
Day
June
2016

Want to know more?:

www.wakeupnamibia.com

www.facebook.com/WakeupEarlyEducationCentre

twitter.com/WakeupDaycare